Wendy, see cool this year but next year
 well be the cool year!!
 Sally is going to have a party this summer! I hope you have to make it! I hope you have hair cancer! I'm sure you don't. You hope you don't around. I hope you don't summer. I'm letting mine grow. I don't know for how long. Nothing much can help, it anyway! Have fun this summer!
 See Ya

is locked within them —
they know it, feel it,
have the whole thing in them —
and they cannot utter it.

Dear Winny-the-pooh-
Some of the things I could ^{write} ~~right~~ in here! Sometimes I wonder how we've come through it alive. Just lucky I guess, or maybe it's our pictures watching over us. (Or maybe it's Pam) It's a good thing that you knew & I knew & David knew that David & I were just friends, huh. Otherwise you might have been mad, huh, win, huh?

Someday- when we reform (?) we'll look back on these o-so-glorious high school days & wish we were back again. realizing a world within: "I am." Unfortunately, I'm wonder if there's any hope for us. Remember when you hammed against the bathroom door? And you'd been yelling at me to be quiet. Well you little bad girl- take care of yourself (I'm sure you will) and stay like you are (even if P. doesn't like it). I'm glad we're such good buds now & probably see you in between your trips ~~next~~ ^{this} summer. I'll come & see how you're "making out" next year.

The aim of education should be to provide the keys which will unlock the future for each new generation . . . a future filled with discoveries, innovations and truths often beyond the imagination even of today's finest teachers.

Insofar as possible, we must plant in youth a language, a sensitivity and a discipline so that they may utter and transmit secrets we may never hear. There is a value in education beyond simply passing on the experiences, traditions and practices of the marketplace, shop and field—this would be a paltry inheritance.

Our brief glimpses of the unspoken secrets of the universe, and the realization of the shortcomings of our language to interpret them, produces awe and disappointment in both generations. It is to be expected.

Time and experience will teach us there are no "lost" generations—just different ones which will someday discover and appreciate one another.

A. T. Van Devanter

A. J. Lindquist
Activity Coordinator

The educator has the challenging responsibility of teaching, guiding and understanding the student. Through teaching, the educator not only shares his knowledge with the student, but he is able to gain new insights through the student's knowledge. Through guiding, the educator directs the student toward a constructive goal—while re-evaluating his own goal in the light of a new generation. Through understanding, the educator and the student are able to comprehend each other—and the generation each represents. By performing these responsibilities the educator directs the willing and capable student toward understanding himself and developing his abilities.

Wendy,

Sorry about the other page but I just didn't think it was really necessary to write what I've already known but since you were unsatisfied I'll try again. Of course I told you before that I've had some of the best times of my whole life with you. It's been pretty tense off and on pretty since your sister's married but despite all that I've said I've done what I still mean what I said when I said it the first time. And I only wish you loved me half that much. You sure have put up with a lot of shit these past few months and I just can't see how you possibly can say that it's been worth it. Maybe you just said it as an act of kindness. I don't know. But as for me, I'm honest. I say that it's been wonderful, and that's it all. You are a wonderful person, you really are, inside. Every once in a while you slip up and you make me feel how sweet you really are. I haven't figured out yet why you feel you have to hide it from me, but I'll use it this summer while you're gone. OK?

The Class of '67 may look back upon the 1964-65 school year with a feeling of pride and accomplishment. The success of our activities and the generous help given by the students and teachers insured that we would reach our goals.

All the activities of the class of '67 have served to make us, as Sophomores, an important part of school life. The Sophomore Dance, Pep Assembly and even our participation in the Cheering Chalice have all helped us feel a part of Sealath High School. The Canned Food Drive served yet another purpose as it provided the class with an opportunity to serve our community.

The people who made these plans a reality were those who did the actual work: the committee chairmen, the members of the committees, and the other Sophomore officers. We also received help, especially during the Canned Food Drive, from the ASB officers and the members of the other classes.

This year has been a good one. With the assistance of our advisor and the continued hard work of members of our class, the next two years will be even better.

Wendy,
 Well the year is coming to a close and I hope you've learned something, (though it doesn't really matter). This summer oughta be fun and I'll probably see a lot of you.
 Until then? Jim Johnson

Well Wendy its that time again
 This year sure has been gobs of fun with all the

The 1964 Sealth football team has proven itself the best our school has ever developed. With a season record of seven wins and one loss, the Seahawks finished co-champions of the Southern Division for the second consecutive year. The season was marred only by a loss to Garfield. As a result of their victory, Garfield met Northern Division champion Roosevelt in the Thanksgiving Day game while Sealth went into a play-off with Northern runner-up Ingraham. A tie in that game gave Sealth a seven win, one loss and one tie overall record and a share of third place in the city.

A twenty-one to nothing romp over West Seattle and a fifteen to nothing shutout of Lincoln were the high points of the season. The final Southern Division standings showed Garfield and Sealth tied for first place. Queen Anne and Lincoln tied for third, Franklin was fifth, followed by West Seattle, Rainier Beach and Cleveland, in that order.

JAMBOREE: In the first clash of the '64 football season, Sealth met Lincoln and fought to a 7-7 tie. Sealth's touchdown proved to be the only one for the Southern Division on the second night of play.

SEALTH 21 - SHORECREST 12: The first half went slowly for the Seahawks. After halftime, however, the squad scored three touchdowns on two passes from Gary Fultz and a run by Jeff Huget.

SEALTH 32 - CLEVELAND 7: Opening the Southern Division football season, Sealth crushed Cleveland. With excellent defense, Sealth held the Eagles to 14 yards while the Seahawks gained 327 yards.

SEALTH 27 - QUEEN ANNE 13: The excellent running of Gerry Ormiston and Fred Vogel was Sealth's important advantage in the conquering of the Grizzlies for the first time in the history of our school.

SEALTH 0 - GARFIELD 13: The Bulldogs capitalized on two Sealth fumbles in Memorial mud to win this most important game of the season.

SEALTH 12 - FRANKLIN 7: In a close and hard fought game Sealth slipped by the Quakers. Fred Vogel scored both touchdowns.

SEALTH 39 - RAINIER BEACH 6: Through the excellent passing of Gary Fultz, the Seahawks had the field almost to themselves. Gary passed for two touchdowns, then ran 27 yards for another.

SEALTH 21 - WEST SEATTLE 0: Sealth was able to stop several Indian threats through intercepted passes and fumble recoveries. Again Sealth showed a fine offense by scoring three touchdowns.

SEALTH 15 - LINCOLN 0: The sad story for the Lynx was Woody Hall. Woody caught two touchdown passes for 67 and 50 yards, intercepted two key Lincoln passes and then in the fourth quarter caught a Lincoln player in his own end zone for a safety.

PLAYOFF: Sealth and Ingraham fought to a 13-13 tie, to share third place in the Metro League. It was a team effort all the way as the Seahawks sustained key drives and managed to curb a favored Ingraham team.

The Junior Varsity ended the season with two wins, two losses and two ties. This record placed them in a tie for fifth place. The team showed a lot of good defense throughout the season. Coach Feagan believes that next year Sealth will be the team to beat.

The Third Team won two games and lost five, coming up with a tie for fifth place. During the season, several players demonstrated skill and ability which should show in the Junior Varsity standings next year.

The Cross Country team is a dedicated group of boys. Endurance is the foundation of this sport and only perseverance and work can create endurance. The team also did well in the city and state meets.

gymnastics and intramurals encourage athletic endeavors.

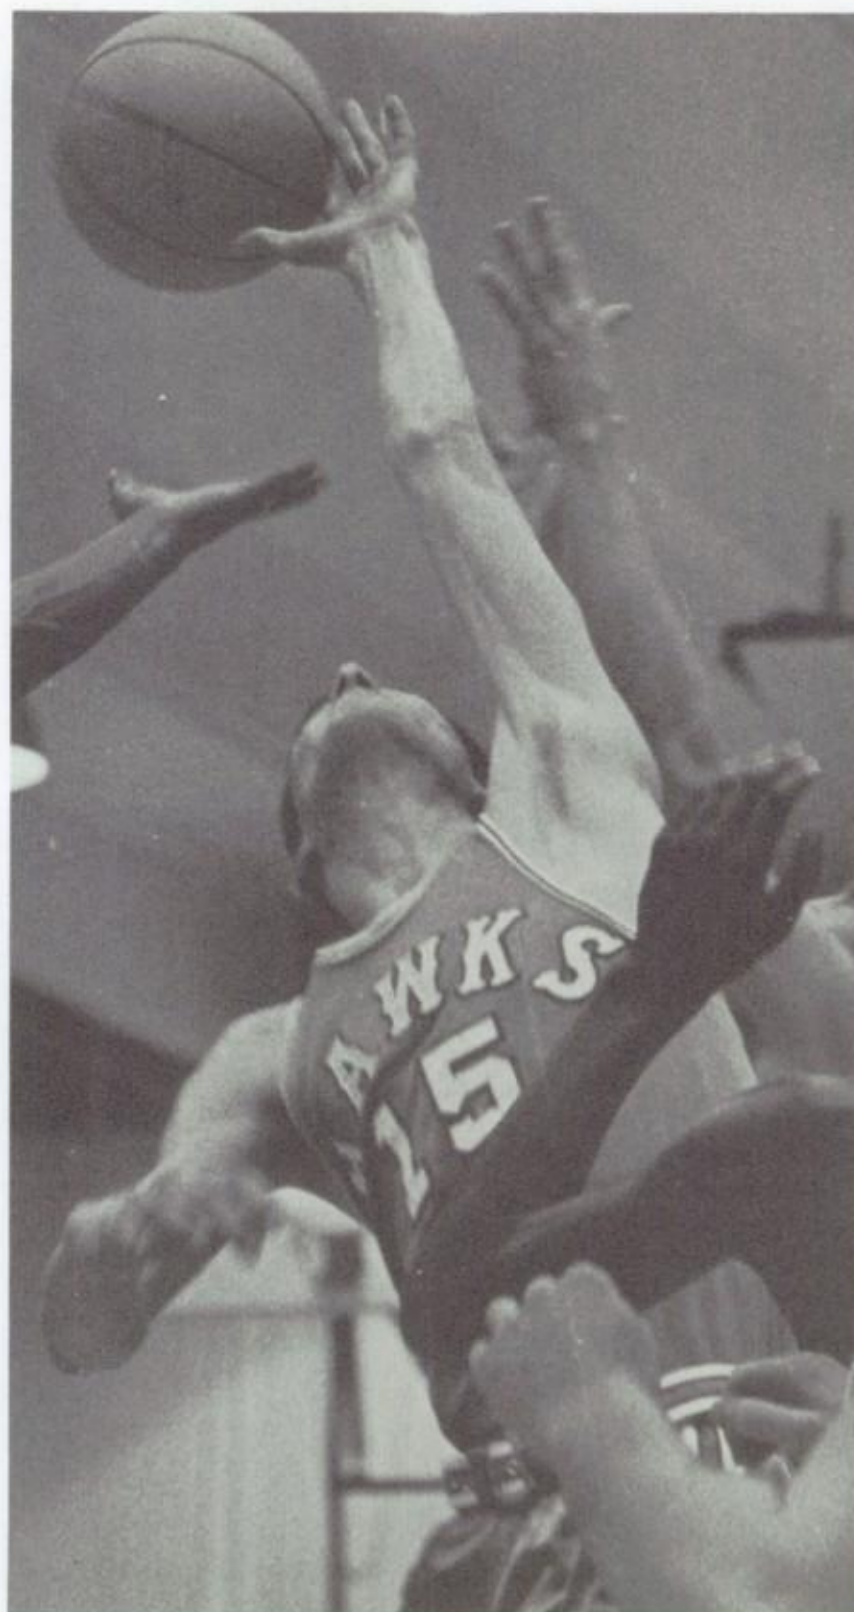

Under the experienced coaching of Carl Bowen, the gymnastics team has had another successful year. Although not yet a varsity sport, the popularity of gymnastics has increased steadily over the past few years.

Mr. Bowen also directed the program of intramurals at Sealath. Competition was keen in many fields. Football, basketball, baseball, 100 mile club, weight training and volleyball are the sports included.

Mr. Garretson, serving his first year as varsity basketball coach, completed a hard fought season placing fourth in the Southern Division with eight wins and six defeats.

With their eyes on the state championship, the highly rated Sealth squad went into the season with four returning lettermen: Woody Hall, Dick Patzer, Gerry Ormiston and Tom Jacobs. John Perucca and Dan Bingham advanced from junior varsity to give their assistance to the varsity team. At the start of the second round of play, sophomore Mike Hall also joined the varsity squad.

Although Sealth did not get in the finals, the difference between winning the Metro League championship and placing fourth in the Southern Division was only a matter of a few points.

The scoring of Dick Patzer and Woody Hall was the main factor in Sealth's victories. The combination of Mike and Woody Hall was instrumental in the last victories of the season.

The third team placed sixth in the Southern Division this year and exhibited good prospects for next year by winning five and losing nine games.

Under the direction of the new coach, Bill Johnson, the sophomores fought through the season with fast movements and excellent rebounding of the ball.

Their most outstanding feat this year was holding Franklin to four points in the first half of play. Reserves were used during the second half which gave Franklin the edge. When the game ended the score was Sealath 48 and Franklin 25.

junior officers instilled the leadership...

One of the main objectives of this year's Junior Class was to try to raise funds for our Senior activities. By doing so, we hope to cut the costs of these activities, allowing more people to participate.

Another objective was to try out new ideas and to create an interest in these ideas for next year's Junior Class. Also, we hoped to get more participants by having these new and different activities in areas which all could participate according to their abilities.

To start off the year we formed the Junior Newsletter. The purpose of this was to provide a means of communication among class members.

The first big activity of the Juniors was the Cheering Chalice. It was held in the stadium on the cold, humid morning of November 9. About 500 persons attended. Yell inspiring music was provided by the Castels, while the cheerleaders and song-leaders led the class in yells. Finally, the Seniors were awarded the Cheering Chalice.

The Junior Dance was held January 9 after it had been postponed from December 19 because of the snow. The theme was Scheherazade and the setting was a desert. The main attraction was a large fountain. The Castels again provided music. It was the first profitable Junior Dance for several years.

Next was the Canadian exchange in which the Junior Class officers went to Canada for several days, and Canadian officers came to Sealath.

Stundi - I spose I have to say the usual that this year was laffs & everything but actually it was - also it was very profitable for many of us, Dave, Jim etc. Also I must say that traps are out of the question - ya know what we should have done is gotten a boy who could take work terrible grades who skip & all that - That way
we wouldn't have any problems - But knowing me I have to pick the cream of the crop - Onward
This summer will be laughs - Be sure to come over alot & when you & Dave and me & Jim are having one of the usuals we can laugh to - gether - I'll obviously see you at the beach
so no need to say hope to - - - - - Why don't you & Dave come down to Jim's sometime when this having one of his usuals - you ought to it's laffs - I really hope that all works Sunday it would be so much fun. I spose I shall end this ridiculous bit of nothing - Have laffs participation is encouraged.

One of the most active organizations at Sealth is the CGA cabinet and its committee members.

Friendship Committee was responsible for the furthering of friendly relations between Sealth and other high schools in the city. They sent cards to these schools every month and on special holidays. They also made name tags for the year's functions.

Sunshine Committee organized a new school contest—decorating and dressing animal forms. Each roll room got an animal shape with nothing on it to indicate what it was supposed to look like. The roll room had to decide what to make it and to decorate it accordingly.

The CGA Newsletter was published each month to bring to the girls of Sealth High a working knowledge of CGA, what it means and what its goals are.

The cabinet and each of the remaining eleven committees has put forth their best efforts to make this a rewarding year for the CGA.

This year's Seahawk Service Club received deserved credit. Each club member has devoted much of his time to enable him to be of service to Sealath. Service club members were seen on numerous occasions—helping at pep assemblies, ushering at football and basketball games, and assisting in directing traffic for all school events.

Mr. Carl Bowen, the club's advisor, willingly devoted his time to make the Seahawk Service Club one of the finest organizations at school.

In order for a boy to qualify for this club, he must maintain at least a 2.20 grade point average and have an earnest desire to be of service to Chief Sealath. All service club members receive free entrance to Metro football games. They also receive special service club jackets.

TEAHOUSE OF THE AUGUST MOON

This year's Senior Play was rated as one of the best plays ever produced at Sealath. On December 3, those who attended were by special invitation only. The play continued on through Saturday night, December 5. The auditorium and foyer, decorated in an Oriental fashion, set the mood and atmosphere for the audience upon their arrival. The orchestra played a beautiful selection of Oriental music near curtain time. Learning the language of the Japanese, the dance of the Geisha girl, the Oriental make-up effect, and the ability to play a Japanese part were all things which took much time, practice, and patience. "Teahouse of the August Moon"—the first big social event of the year—will always be remembered by the Senior Class.

moods and expressions are presented through drama.

The first and second year Drama classes were kept very busy as once again they provided a Children's Traveling Theatre. They went to the neighboring elementary schools—Highland Park, High Point, E. C. Hughes, Cooper, Arbor Heights, Fairmont Park and Fauntleroy—performing the various plays. The plays produced were "Sleeping Beauty," "Cinderella," "Peter Rabbit," "Town Mouse-Country Mouse," "King's Creampuffs" and "The Mad Tea-Party"—a scene from Alice in Wonderland.

The administration and students of Sealth commend Mrs. Helen Wohlmacher for another outstanding job done with the Drama Department.

DIRTY WORK AT THE CROSSROADS

An old fashioned Gay 90's musical melodrama set the stage for this year's All-School Play. "Dirty Work at the Crossroads or Tempted, Tried and True," was presented on the nights of March 12 and 13. The play told the tale of pure Nellie Lovelace and her love for brave Adam Oakhart, while vile Munro Murgatroyd schemed for wealth, and notorious Ida Rhinegold played his game. All lived happily ever after except for poor Widow Lovelace, poisoned at Munro's hand, and the villain himself, who was caught in his own evil doings—in the path of an on-coming train.

The audience found themselves booing the villain, weeping for the heroine, and cheering for the hero in times of suspense, sadness and revenge. Music was occasionally played and sung throughout the play and between acts, helping to set the mood for this heart-warming story.

This year the Drama Department recognized six students for their enthusiasm and hard work. The First Year Awards went to Maysie Kirkpatrick and Ray Hallinan for their promising improvement and fine contribution to drama during their first year.

The Best Actor and Actress Awards are presented to the boy and girl who, during the current year, participated in at least one major or three minor productions and through them showed creative acting and cooperation with crews, cast members and directors.

To the senior or seniors who have contributed the most to drama and to the traditions of the theatre during three years, and who have worked on several aspects of four major productions, go the Dramatic Achievement Award. This award is the highest and most coveted of the drama awards.

"It's Comedy Tonight" was the theme of Sealth's Frolics of '65, directed by Mr. Jerry Gordon. A wide variety of talent was performed by students representing each class. The cheerleaders, Sealth Singers, senior girls, faculty and band were among the groups which presented acts on the nights of April 29, 30 and May 1.

The singing, dancing and acting provided a delightful evening of fine entertainment for everyone.

the nostalgia of leaving,

The Freshman year with its shouldering of responsibility, the Sophomore year with its comprehension of school pride, the Junior year with its realization of companionship, and the Senior year with its application of leadership are now memories of the Class of '65.

Scholastically and athletically this class has left an enviable record. Its members have been leaders in the Honor Society and have received recognition in the Top Ten. For two years, Southern Division championship football teams were formed and supported by this class. And members of this class have participated in all of our school athletics with pride and enthusiasm.

The most outstanding assets of this class were its unity and spirit. The Senior Car Wash, the winning of the Cheering Chalice, the Senior Play, the Senior Breakfast, the Prom and finally the Commencement exercises all added to the avidity of the class and its sense of belonging.

The accomplishments and activities of the Class of '65 will always be held as standards and goals to future classes.

Water, soap, and laughter bubbled at the Senior carwashes held twice during the year. It must be known, however, that the seniors added an ample amount of money to the Senior Class Treasury—a very desirable result. We finally won the Cheering Chalice—at long last our class united into a massive body of yelling, screaming, stomping maniacs who joyfully accepted the Chalice for the year. Not long after The Great Chalice Victory we found ourselves caught up in the Senior Play, "Teahouse of the August Moon." A fantastic performance was given by all who participated, leaving little doubt that any other Sealth-given play had been as successful.

we now face the world and its challenges...

our lives begin tomorrow

With the coming of spring, our Senior year was met by a flurry of activities—activities suited to the tastes of everyone. Following the All-School Play, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," and the Frolics, we feasted at the Senior Breakfast which proved to be well worth the money and class time. Our Senior Trip was a rollicking success—a day of ever compelling motion highlighted with swimming, ice skating, boating, and just plain goofing around at Gold Creek Park. Closely behind and in quick succession were the Morp (designed particularly for those who dislike formal attire) and the Prom—the most anticipated social event of a girl's high school life. This year's Prom, "Candlelight and Gold," was exceptionally beautiful having been held for the first time in the Snoqualmie Room of the Seattle City Center. However, all the good times, the fun, and the laughter of the Senior year had to come to an end eventually.

We, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-five, will soon face life individually, putting to use all the knowledge we have gained in the past twelve years. With the dawning of tomorrow our lives will begin—because today we have learned how to live.

In memory of Marianne Blenkinsop:

Sail on, O Spirit of Life. Sail to the farthest country, where no man's will may touch you. Let the breeze of your flight dry our tears and the grace of your form remind us of the symmetry of life.

Well wen here we are again.
 There's really not much to say except that even though we haven't been best friends
 I have considered you someone to whom I could tell anything I wanted. We can tell each off and really when you do I'm not offended cause - well thats sure one thing we do well - tell each other what to do. Hope you and Dave have gobs of fun this summer. Be good - if you can and see you next year.

Always
 Kath.

Wendy,
 Well the year's finally coming to an end and no more would history. It's been real fun sitting by you (and chasing?) this year. Good luck next year and have fun this summer.

Love Ya,
 Carol

Wendy,

Times have sure changed, haven't they. This year has been tough, even with all the problems!
 I know you'll have a fun summer, but just don't make it too wild Ha! Got in all of it this summer.

Love,
 Carl Johnson

Wendy,
 One more year has gone by without much notice and its been a great one but next year will be even better. Have just a swell summer, I sure you will and I wish you the best of luck.
 Love
 Eileen

Love Jan

WELL - WE'VE SURE HAD SOME GOOD TIMES
 THIS YEAR. I AM AWFULLY SORRY I GOT YOU INTO THAT MESS, LUCKY IT ~~WAS~~ DIDN'T GET REALLY
 HESSY. FINALLY WE BOTH GOT OUR OWN CUPS
 AND I SUPPOSE WE'LL KEEP THEM FOR AWHILE.
 DON'T GET ANY MORE OF THAT I ON YOUR THINGS
 IT DOESN'T LOOK TOO GOOD. WELL HAVE TO GET TO-GETHER SOMETHING WITH THE GIRLS TO HAVE A LITTLE FUN. BE CAREFUL. THAT'S ALL I'LL SAY ABOUT IT.
 SEE YOU SOME MORNING.

WENDY

Wendy -
Well another year's over. No more boring Biology classes. actually
we had fun class our own health & all that back here with Gerry and all other stuff
Rhuth

WENDY -

Well I've always wondered what kind of girl you were... But I still think of all the girls I know your probably the lamest although that's good cuz' I really like crazy lame girls. Well we've had our fun this year at different times & I've learned alot from you & I'd say that you better come up & see me this summer but I won't cuz' I know you will anyway - I hope, hope, hope^{oo} have fun on your trip all over the U.S. & don't forget to write again. You know I'll miss you.*

YOUR

PATRICK

Sidney

*I'll miss you cuz' I'm expectin' you to drive me around this summer cuz' I'll never have my license.

Wendy -
Have a really fun summer &
good luck next year.
Hope I see ya
(no time) Love,
Dawn
